4. Bugs Fixed with this Patch Release

28606 StringIndexOutOfBoundsException while accessing through USM
When using certain header fields for complex objects at a client that uses USM (e.g. ActiveSync, Outlook), those headers could not be processed correctly. This has been solved by taking all possible header content into consideration.

28602 Writing MIME parts fails for certain cases
In some cases, file resources for generating mail content have been closed at the backend while they are required by the application for reading later on. This has been solved by keeping those resources open until all required data has been read.

28577 en_GB not available as language for 7.2.2
British English has been added as a translation for the frontend.

28397 ArrayIndexOutOfBoundsException while accessing through USM
When filtering out duplicate folders, it could happen that the expected length of the whole folder list was incorrect, leading to error messages. This has been solved by re-calculating the list size after filtering duplicate folders.

27866 NullPointerException when evaluating ical file
In some cases, attempting to parse certain iCal content returned "null" values. This led to error messages and has been solved by dealing with "null" return values.

27232 Working with specific mails cause incorrect access to mail backend
When requesting a multipart of a mail while switching to another folder at the same time, led to issuing "close" command to the original folder. This has been solved by implementing a "reconnect" mechanism into muiltipart retrieval for mails.
